We are delighted to honor Rabbi Avram Kogen at Selichot this year. He is an important part of our JCCP/CBT community and we very much appreciate all that he has added to synagogue life at our shul.

Rabbi Kogen has lived in Fair Lawn since 1987. Since 2010 he has stayed over in Paramus for Shabbat on a regular basis, in order to serve as Torah Reader at the JCCP/CBT.

Rabbi Kogen, who grew up on the Upper West Side in New York City, received his basic Jewish education at home, in day schools, and at Camp Ramah. He then chose to build on this foundation by embarking on a dual degree program offered by Columbia University and The Jewish Theological Seminary of America, earning bachelor's degrees in Psychology and in Talmud. He spent his junior year of college at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

Continuing at the Seminary, Rabbi Kogen earned an M.A. in Judaica, followed by Rabbinic Ordination. The prizes that Rabbi Kogen earned in Rabbinical School were in Bible and in Homiletics (the writing and delivery of sermons). Subsequently, Rabbi Kogen earned a second M.A. (in Curriculum and Teaching) from Teachers College, Columbia University. And, in 2003, the Seminary gave Rabbi Kogen the honorary Doctor of Divinity degree.

Rabbi Kogen worked for many summers at the Ramah camps, in roles as diverse as counselor, librarian, division head, program coordinator, and business manager. During the school year, he taught at synagogue and community religious schools, and later at day schools within the Solomon Schechter system.

Rabbi Kogen is married to Linda Ripps, and they have three children: Navah, Seffi, and Matan. Navah and Seffi – and Linda – work in Jewish nonprofit organizations. Matan, who recently graduated from high school, is about to spend a year in Israel. Linda, Navah, Seffi, and Matan all have Ramah backgrounds, and they all have been active in U.S.Y. on the regional level. Rabbi Kogen has three brothers (who live in three different time zones).

Rabbi Kogen worked as a congregational rabbi in Conservative synagogues in Pensacola, Florida and in York, Pennsylvania. He is particularly proud of his Adult Education work, as well as his participation in Pensacola's Interfaith Council (a forum for community-oriented discussions among clergy of different faith traditions) and in the Pennsylvania Jewish Coalition (an umbrella organization of representatives from the various federated Jewish communities of Pennsylvania).

Since 1990, Rabbi Kogen has worked in the field of insurance and financial consulting, where he is a solo practitioner. He has earned the industry designations of Chartered Life Underwriter (CLU) and Chartered Financial Consultant (ChFC). Concurrently, he has pursued an interesting variety of Judaic projects. Besides his involvement at the JCCP/CBT, he has also taught a variety of workshops for the New Jersey region of the United Synagogue of Conservative Judaism, and he taught for five years at the Bergen County High School of Jewish Studies. He also took a turn writing Torah Sparks on the weekly Torah portion for the USCJ website for a year. JCCP members with long memories might remember that Rabbi Kogen also served here as the tutor for Bar- and Bat-Mitzvah students in the year before Cantor Weiss joined our community.

Rabbi Kogen enjoys his involvement at the JCCP/CBT, warming to the challenge of preparing and conveying each week's Torah reading in accurate Hebrew. He values the friendships that he has made here, often at the Kiddush/luncheon and in other informal settings. He also embraces the opportunity to explore advanced topics in Judaism with those who wish to dig beneath the surface and to grow in their Jewish knowledge and practice.

NEW HIGH HOLIDAY RECORDINGS ADDED TO THE WEBSITE

The Listen & Learn Prayers web page has been updated to reflect the many transliterations contained in our new Machzor Lev Shalem. Please take advantage of the many MP3 files and expanded transliterated text sheets to make your High Holiday prayer experience even more meaningful and enjoyable. All of the transliterated text are already printed in the Machzor, so using the text sheets during services is not really necessary. But do print them out for yourself at home to help you Listen and Learn!

Also check out the Listen and Learn page prayers for the home: How to bring Rosh Hashanah, Festivals and every Shabbat to our mealtimes with the appropriate versions of the Kiddush, as well as how to mark the conclusion of Shabbat and Holidays with the Havdalah ceremony. The Listen and Learn Birkat Hamazon section now includes the blessings made before eating various foods.

From the Rabbi

Rabbi Arthur D. Weiner

As many of you are aware, our synagogue is making a major change for High Holiday Services this year. As we announced to the congregation several months ago, thanks to the generosity of Rich and Sandy Alpern, we are replacing the black Silverman Machzor (High Holiday prayer book) with the new Machzor Lev Shalem. This is the first time that we have changed the Machzor in the history of the JCCP/CBT. It's a major step forward and the differences between the 2 prayer books will become apparent immediately even to the most casual observer. I would like to talk to the congregation about several of the changes and innovations that you will find in this new prayer book.

1. Improved English translations: Machzor Lev Shalem recognizes that many who attend our High Holiday services lack a good working knowledge of the Hebrew prayers. So a new and highly readable English translation was prepared for this volume. Even when the Silverman Machzor came out in 1939, it was criticized for using a stilted English that did not even reflect the way English was spoken at that time in American history. The changes that you will see go beyond the simple removal of outdated praises like Thee, Thou and Thy. You will find a flowing, idiomatic translation that even as it attempts to faithfully translate the traditional Hebrew prayers is simultaneously sensitive to the way we speak and understand the English language today. So for example, whereas the previous Machzor generally referred to God with gender-specific descriptions, this new Machzor generally prefers a more gender neutral way of understanding God in keeping with our evolving religious understanding. In Judaism God is neither male nor female. The English translation does a good job in reinforcing this theological truth.

2. Commentary and Discussion: Perhaps the most immediate change you will see is the myriad of commentaries and explanatory notes that are on each page of the new prayer book. The previous Machzor lacked any of these explanations. This new prayer book has notes, commentaries and explanations written by great scholars and world-renowned thinkers which, more than anything else in this new book will most likely enhance your High Holiday experience. The truth is our High Holiday services are long. The prayers, important as they are, don't speak to everyone equally at the same time. These notes will teach, inform and add to your understanding of not only the prayers, but the lofty concepts of the High Holiday experience in a manner that previous prayer books simply do not. Indeed one of the reasons why so many in our congregation enjoy the daily siddur that we use in the Bodeen Chapel so much is because it contains these types of notes, commentaries and explanations. The Machzor Lev Shalem has provided tremendous opportunities for learning and gaining a greater appreciation of not only the High Holidays themselves but the entire Jewish experience, providing all those who use this book on Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur with something to think about not only during the High Holiday period but throughout the year as well.

3. English transliteration: Our former Machzor contained no transliteration of our Hebrew prayers which, without intending to do so, literally disinvented a substantial percentage of the community from participating in the Hebrew service. Throughout Jewish history there has been tension between the desire to maintain Hebrew as the language of prayer and the realization that too many did not have the ability to pray in the language of our ancestors. For years, Cantor Weiss has worked hard to prepare transliterated materials to facilitate participation. The new High Holiday prayer book has made transliteration a priority. Its page design is designed to facilitate the use of its extensive transliteration to encourage the congregation to join the Cantor and the community in the Hebrew prayers. The layout is designed literally to draw the eye of the worshipper to those sections. I believe that this will help facilitate communal participation and singing for all.

Every prayer book in Jewish history, especially those that have been disseminated since the advent of the printing press reflect the editorial judgments of those who conceived as well as published them. What should they look like? What should be retained, and what should be left out, relative to previous editions? We make decisions based not only on the needs and conditions that motivated the composing of a new prayer book in the first place, but what we anticipate the needs will be in years to come. As you review and use the new High Holiday Machzor, these editorial decisions will become apparent immediately. What we call the matba'ah shel tefilla, (the framework of prayer) remains the same, many of the extra prayers that we add on the High Holidays have been reconsidered. Some remain, some have been removed and new ones have been added. Indeed, when the Silverman Machzor was first published almost 80 years ago, many of its choices were considered radical at the time. To be perfectly honest, I am not yet comfortable with all the changes that this work has embraced. And I know for a fact that the same sentiment was shared with the editors of the Silverman Machzor years ago. Yet their judgments proved prescient and wise, and their work remained a most beloved part of American Judaism for three generations. I have every confidence that this new Machzor will do the same.

Cantor Weiss and I, along with our High Holiday guest Rabbi, Hillel Gold and guest Cantor Devin Goldenberg have spent a great deal of time this summer familiarizing ourselves with the new Machzor Lev Shalem. We are excited about what we trust it will contribute to the High Holiday experience in our community and in our lives.

L'shanah Tovah – Healthy and happy new year to all.

President's Message

Wayne Zeiler

L'Shana Tova!

As I sit here writing this, it is at the start of my presidency at the JCCP/CBT. As you sit there reading this, it is at the start of the Jewish New Year 5779. As the saying goes, "A journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step." I like to approach any new aspect of my life as an adventure. When my daughters Gab and Bec were younger, Debbie and I referred to any family trip we went on as adventures. By framing something new as an adventure, it becomes fun and exciting, has the potential to make any hurdles in our way seem doable, and keeps us aware to pay attention, as we start with that first step.

In the upcoming days, I will be learning a lot -- as I walk through the shul, as I greet people, and (yes) even as I attend meetings. The one thing I am clear on, is that we have a great team in place as we face the challenges ahead, work through issues, and strive to keep the JCCP/CBT a viable entity into the future. Having just had our first Town Hall, I look forward to future opportunities to hearing your thoughts, getting your feedback, and hopefully, hearing where you think that you can make a difference.

I look forward to serving our community as the President. At the end of the day, I am still a congregant -- one of many. As I take this first step of many, I invite all of you to join me. We are stronger together than we are as individuals. Together we can strive to be all that our community can be, not just for this week, not just for this month, not just for this year, but for many years to come. I look forward to the fun and exciting adventure ahead, to take this adventure together.

From Debbie, Gabrielle, Rebecca and myself, I want to wish each of you a happy, healthy and prosperous New Year. May we all be inscribed, once again, in the book of life.

HIGH HOLIDAY ANNOUNCEMENT

We are excited to announce to the congregation an additional opportunity for meaningful High Holiday experiences.

On the second day of Rosh Hashanah, at 11:00 AM, and on Yom Kippur at 12:30 PM, we will have an Adult Learning High Holiday experience. This service, which will be led by Sam Weiner will provide an opportunity for adults to learn more about the High Holiday services and prayers, address questions and encourage a different type of experience than the one offered in the sanctuary or Stark Hall. This service has been extremely well received for the past several years so we have added it for Yom Kippur as well.

Perhaps you have trouble understanding the prayers. Or the Hebrew is an impediment to your overall participation. Or your High Holiday experience is simply not being met by our existing High Holiday offerings. You are not alone. This service just might be for you.

From the Operations Manager

Rita Greenberg

As we begin preparations for the High Holidays, so many things come to mind. There is of course the cleaning, preparing, ordering, and organizing that are a part of our normal expectations of what we do months before the holidays begin. But aside from the physical aspects of all we do to prepare for this special time of year, there is also the preparing of our mind for a new year. We relive all that we have experienced over the past year and see where we can make changes for the better. Have we been the best we can be? What can we change for the better? How can we be the best form of ourselves? Have we helped those who need help? Have we been as kind to each other as we possibly can? Have we been grateful each and every day for those things in our lives that we are truly fortunate to have even though at times that is difficult? The world we are now experiencing is making others forget what simple kindness is all about. We must never be anything other than kind and thoughtful and caring to all. To be cruel and thoughtless and unkind is not being truthful – it cannot become the new “norm” – it is merely being cruel and thoughtless and unkind. Something we must never be.

In the coming year, you will see many changes at the synagogue. Many of them with the thought of opening our arms to all to include everyone – some of them small changes, but many much bigger. You have already experienced some of these changes – for example in the new weekly announcement format we send each week. You will experience our new High Holiday prayer books this year. We are planning many new and different events for the coming year and much more. Watch for these changes and as always, tell us what you think.

Let me start the New Year off with a big heartfelt thank you to all of our wonderful volunteers who I learn from each and every day and whose help is indispensable.

L'Shanah Tovah

Happy Healthy New Year

(The One With That Secret Ingredient)

Ingredients

4 large garlic cloves, minced (or more if you like)
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon of paprika
1 teaspoon of salt
1 teaspoon of vegetable oil
2 medium to large onions, sliced
1 3- pound piece of boneless brisket, excess fat trimmed (second cut is best).
1 cup of ketchup or Heinz chili sauce (Chili sauce is delicious)
½ cup water
2 pounds Yukon gold potatoes, quartered. No need to peel Yukon gold potatoes. Just wash them well.

Mix garlic, spices, salt and oil into a paste and rub this onto the meat, on both sides, well. (Your hands will be all red). Let the meat rest with the rub for about 30 minutes. Preheat oven to 400°.

Put the onions on a roasting pan and top with the brisket, fat side up. Cover the pan with foil and roast for 15 minutes. Reduce the oven temperature to 325°. Pour the ketchup or chili sauce over the brisket and spread it lightly over the meat. Add the water to the pan, but around the brisket, not over it. Cover with foil and bake for 1 ½ hours, basting with water if the pan gets too dry.

Add the quartered potatoes to the pan around the meat. Baste meat and potatoes with the pan juices and sprinkle the potatoes lightly with salt. Cover and roast for 45 minutes; turn potatoes over and roast for 45 minutes longer, or, until both the brisket and potatoes are very tender when pierced with a fork.

Remove meat to a board, ketchup side up. Remove the onions with a slotted spoon. Put ½ cup of the onions in a medium saucepan and add the roasting juices from the meat. Boil about 5 minutes or until well flavored and slightly thickened.

Carve the meat into thin slices crosswise. Pour the sauce into a gravy boat or sauce bowl and serve separately.

Shalom Everyone,

I hope everyone had a relaxing and fun filled summer and that you are ready to begin this new school year with energy, excitement and an appetite for learning and Jewish adventures. Our school this year is filled with learning and with exciting programs.

Our Youth department is also planning an exciting year. FLIPPER Kadima is for 6th - 8th grade students open to our Hebrew School and Day School students. FLIPPER USY is for high school students. FLIPPER connects our young people with kids from several other Bergen County Congregations. We also have a Chaverim program for children in 4th - 7th. Look for our upcoming fliers.

School begins on Sunday, September 16. Parents will be welcomed back with a breakfast and kids will have special snacks. If you know of any families who have not yet registered for Hebrew School please have them contact me at edudirector@jccparamus.org. ## Community Affairs

Every Day is Mitzvah Day

The JCCP/CBT is proud of our Community Affairs (Social Action) Committee. We are well known in Bergen County for our long standing efforts in feeding the hungry. We have fall and spring Turkey Drives which benefit the Center For Food Action. We donate the food from our ongoing food drive to various food pantries, including sites in Paramus and Oradell. Our food drives are named in memory of Fran Leib, former Co-Chair of the Community Affairs Committee, who worked tirelessly for many years to help eliminate hunger in Bergen County. Please bring a bag or an item of non-perishable food and drop it in our collection box in the synagogue lobby for our ongoing food drive.

This fall our first Mitzvah of the year 5779 will be Operation Isaiah, our collection of food on Kol Nidre eve, Tuesday, September 18. Thank you to Ken and Phyllis Glatzer who are again chairing this event. Please bring a bag of non-perishable food that evening; you may also bring your donation during the week before.

On the morning of Sunday, October 14 we will send a group of volunteers to the Center for Food Action Warehouse to unpack and sort donated food. If you want to help, please call Merle Harris at 201-444-2352.

Our Chessed Committee has volunteers available if you, or someone you know, needs temporary help shopping or needs a ride to services, synagogue events or doctor appointments. Call Eileen Schneider at 201-722-1606 for help or to volunteer to drive.

Our committee would love to hear from you if you have an idea for a project. Contact committee chair Roz Gerard with suggestions and questions at memapop@aol.com or 201-262-5828.

~ ADULT EDUCATION 2018-2019 (5779) ~

"He who does not increase his knowledge, decreases it ..." (Pirke Avot, 1:13)

Dear Fellow Congregants,

The Adult Education Committee is planning courses and events for the New Year, 2018-2019 (5779). Make this the year you take a class, attend a Book Club meeting, or even learn to play Mahjong or Canasta. Maybe you'd like to join us for our monthly Sunday afternoon films, a lecture, a concert or a trip. To accommodate everyone, we hold classes and events in both the afternoon and evening. We hope you will expand your Jewish horizons by joining us for a variety of offerings:

Classes taught throughout the year by
Rabbi Weiner, Cantor Weiss, Rabbi Gold and Stu Lehrer
JCCP/CBT Book Club ~ Jewish Film Festival
GWAN events~Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow

The fourth annual Harold Lerman Fund For Israel Education and Engagement event will be held on the evening of Sunday, May 12, so save the date! We are pleased to announce that our speaker will be Ambassador Dennis Ross. Ambassador Ross is counselor and William Davidson Distinguished Fellow at The Washington Institute for Near East Policy.

Adult Education courses can increase your knowledge and give you the skills you need to participate in and be more comfortable at services. Don't miss this opportunity to be a wonderful role model for your children and grandchildren. Even if you do not attend any classes, you can visit our website's Listen and Learn page, (under the "Learning" menu), for MP3 recordings of favorite High Holiday congregational refrains, melodies for Torah aliyah blessings, and more, matched to Hebrew and transliterated PDF sheets of the prayers.

Almost every Adult Education class and event at the JCCP/CBT is offered at little or no cost. In order to continue to provide free classes and cover our expenses for events like a scholar-in-residence or a speaker, we rely on donations from our Annual Adult Education Appeal. The money we collect is our only funding; Adult Education is not funded by the synagogue.

We look forward to hearing from you and thank you in advance for your continued support and commitment to Jewish education.

Sincerely,

Mark Topel

Adult Education Committee Chairman
