From the Rabbi

Rabbi Arthur D. Weiner

There is a famous story that is often told by rabbis trying to teach about the sin of slander. In an attempt to instruct a member of the community known for her malicious speech about the damage her words could do, the rabbi instructed the person to scatter feathers in a strong wind. After a while, the rabbi told her to collect the feathers, which of course proved impossible. Some could be retrieved, but most could not. And so it is, the rabbi taught this congregant, with the words we express to others: Once uttered, they can rarely be retracted successfully.

On April 1, we saw a living example of the truth of the story. On that day, on the Op-Ed page of The Washington Post, Judge Richard Goldstone, the eminent international legal authority and human rights advocate, and author of the now infamous Goldstone Report, publicly retracted the libel that the government of Israel had deliberately targeted Palestinian civilians during its monthlong Gaza conflict with Hamas in the winter of 2008-09. In his words:

"We know a lot more today about what happened in the Gaza war of 2008-09 than we did when I chaired the fact-finding mission appointed by the U.N. Human Rights Council that produced what has come to be known as the Goldstone Report. If I had known then what I know now, the Goldstone Report would have been a different document. ... That the crimes allegedly committed by Hamas were intentional goes without saying — its rockets were purposefully and indiscriminately aimed at civilian targets.

The allegations of intentionality by Israel were based on the deaths of and injuries to civilians in situations where our fact-finding mission had no evidence on which to draw any other reasonable conclusion. While the investigations published by the Israeli military and recognized in the U.N. committee's report have established the validity of some incidents that we investigated in cases involving individual soldiers, they also indicate that civilians were not intentionally targeted as a matter of policy."

The Goldstone Report, commissioned by the United Nations Human Rights Council, perhaps the most vehemently anti-Israel organization within the international community (and itself comprised of human rights "champions" such as China, Saudi Arabia and, until recently, Libya) was utterly ill conceived, staffed by many with a long and well-documented animus toward Israel was designed and executed with one purpose: to criticize Israel, absolve Hamas, and lay the blame for the conflict at Israel's doorstep. In that respect the Goldstone Report was but another attempt by the international community to isolate and further demonize Israel.

Given the agenda of those who commissioned this report, it would have been foolhardy to think that any other result other than defaming Israel could have been anticipated. The United Nations has a long history of hostility to Israel and, as a result of its obsession with Israel, has ignored famines, wars, and genocides (often perpetrated by the very nations that always criticize Israel). It is for this reason that Israel refused to cooperate with this inquiry.

What was surprising was that Judge Goldstone, an internationally respected jurist and a leader of South African Jewry, would agree to head this biased commission. Judge Goldstone played a leading role in undermining the policy of apartheid in South Africa and served as a chief prosecutor during the United Nations International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia and for Rwanda. In the past, Judge Goldstone implied that his participation would insure fairness with regard to Israel's needs and concerns. If that was his goal, he failed miserably.

The net result of the Goldstone Report was to further blacken Israel's name, aid the efforts around the world to further isolate and demonize Israel, and ultimately undermine democracies in their struggle against terrorism and Islamic fundamentalism by drawing moral equivalence between terrorists attacking civilians and the right of a sovereign nation to self-defense. The Goldstone Report, instead of fulfilling its lofty mandate, reminded everyone of a sad truth that the pro Israel community must deal with every single day: There is one rule for nations and a separate rule for Israel.

Now, after all the damage that this report has done, Judge Goldstone retracted the major finding of the report that bears his name. The pro-Israel community in America and the government of Israel must celebrate this moment for the victory it truly is. Israel is not perfect and has a moral obligation to punish anyone who violates the laws, even during war. But the policy of Israel was to defend itself against the libelous conclusion reached by Goldstone.

Judge Goldstone is to be praised for this retraction, however belated (and incomplete) it might be. Yet to paraphrase the story with which I began this column, the feathers have been scattered by strong winds, ruining Israel's reputation and perverting the justice of its cause in the court of public opinion.

How will they ultimately be retrieved?

From the Executive Director

Joe A. Herrmann

I hope everyone had a sweet Pesach. It was great to be with family and friends. My wife, Dee, cooked up a storm, and there was a lot of singing and fun.

Many of you may not be aware that the JCCP participates in the United Synagogue of Conservative Judaism's Affinity Program. The JCCP receives a portion of the funds donated to our USCJ region by TD Bank. There is no cost to you or the JCCP to participate in the program.

If you, your family or your friends have an account at TD Bank and are willing to provide the full name(s) associated with your account(s), you can participate and earn money for the JCCP. All accounts are eligible: new or existing, business or individual, checking, savings, money market, CD or retirement accounts. Again, there is no cost to you or the JCCP.

Let me know that you have an account at TD Bank, and provide the account name and address: for example, "John Doe" (your name), or if it is a joint account, "John and Jane Doe," and your address. If it is a business account, give us the business name and business address. That's all we need; the JCCP does not need account numbers, balances or any other information about you or your accounts. The JCCP will never receive a report with any information, confidential or other, about your account(s). All the JCCP receives is a check from USCJ. That's it; it's that simple.

Last year we received a check from USCJ for $1,783 merely for telling them who has accounts with TD Bank. We earned that amount from having some 40 people participate. Let's try to double that check for the next year!

President's Message

Russell Rothman

There is a saying in the Talmud that if a person resides in a town for 30 days, the person is responsible for continuing the soup kitchen. After three months, the person is responsible for the charity box; after six months, for the clothing fund; after nine months, for the burial fund; and after 12 months, for contributing to the repair of the town walls.

Although this protocol of community service is reminiscent of our system of succession from third vice-president to president, it highlights the growing importance of synagogue and community service over time. Community service is a part of our DNA as Jews. It is, and always has been, part of our strength as a synagogue. From my conversations with other synagogue presidents across the country, it is clear that we are truly blessed by the high level of volunteerism among our congregants. Despite our busy lives as parents, grandparents, employees and employers, our members continue to volunteer their time to support minyanim, serve on committees, run events and participate in services.

Right now, however, our Nominating Committee is experiencing difficulty filling several key positions in the management of our synagogue. I hope everyone will consider (or reconsider) if approached to help our second home.

On a very happy note, I'm proud to report that our former president, Ken Glatzer, will be among those honored on May 5 by the United Synagogue of Conservative Judaism's Mid-Atlantic District for his outstanding contributions to our synagogue and his many years of service, including as financial secretary, treasurer of the Men's Club, member of the JCCP Choir and Board of Governors, and of course as president. Ken, we all salute you!

PARAMUS ISRAEL BONDS SPRING EVENT HONORING LOLA AND HENRY WEBER

The Spring 2011 Paramus Israel Bonds event will take place on Sunday, May 15. We will be honoring Lola and Henry Weber, who like to start things that leave a lasting footprint in our hearts, souls and surroundings. Lola and Henry are not only founding members of the JCCP but also of the Paramus Israel Bonds drive.

The Jewish Community Center of Paramus has been the center of Lola and Henry's lives since its inception in 1951. The Webers gathered with 30 other families who saw the need for a synagogue and Jewish Community Center, and they continue to understand that need to the present day.

Lola and Henry literally worked their way through the ranks to the top echelon of leadership in this community. They distinguished themselves by being there when they were needed and always responding to the call for help, whether it was for the JCC, Israel Bonds, UJA or for the community at large. During Henry's presidency, he was instrumental in setting the groundwork for the design and construction of the present building.

Lola has established her own enviable record of service to the congregation. She was recording secretary for many years, served on the first Hebrew School Board of Education, and helped to found the Adult Education and Youth programs. Henry and Lola chaired the first Israel Bonds drive in 1958 with their dear friends Lotte and Fred Buff.

The Webers have three daughters, six grandchildren and one great-grandchild. They, too, were involved in our synagogue and follow in their parents/grandparents footsteps by being active in their own synagogues. They are pleased to be part of the 2011 Israel Bonds drive and hope for a successful effort to benefit the State of Israel.

Hebrew School News

Marcia Kagedan

Hebrew School keeps up its fast pace throughout the year. April was busy with Passover preparations and celebrations. Many parents came to the Family Passover Workshop, which was a great success. The families reviewed and learned seder skills and all went home with something new to think about, talk about and experience at their own seder tables this year.

In May, we will be commemorating Holocaust Day, celebrating Israel's Independence Day and Memorial Day, Lag b'Omer in Van Saun Park, going to the Mets game with Rabbi Reshevsky, graduating and preparing for our participation in the Israel Day Parade, to name just a few. There's definitely something for everyone!

The JCCP will be host to Kolot Amal, a choir from a high school in Nahariya, Israel, the UJANNU's twin city. Students from seven other congregational schools as well as the Bergen County High School of Jewish Studies will be joining us for this celebration of Israel. There will be an interactive concert on May 8 starting at 10 a.m.; JCCP members are welcome to attend.

Our participation in the Israel Day Parade on June 5 is extremely important. The Israel Awareness Committee and the Hebrew School encourage all to attend. This is such an amazing way to show the world that Israel has supporters everywhere. Sign-up sheets are available online at www.jccparamus.org, and you can also make reservations through the Hebrew School by contacting me at (201) 262-7733 or edudirector@jccparamus.org. The charge of $18 per person (with a family maximum of $65) includes the parade T-shirt, bus transportation from the JCCP and snacks. Please make your reservations early as buses must be reserved and T-shirts ordered for the correct number of people, etc.

Our amazing Lag b'Omer event from last year will now be an annual one! The barbecue will be waiting for you, as will all the games and sports activities for the kids. Check the website for more details.

Early Childhood Center News

Judith S. Fox

The concept of "giving tzedakah" is essential to our Jewish tradition and is an integral part of our lives. As adults, besides dropping coins in a pushke, we participate in a panoply of tzedakah activities: writing checks to communal Jewish and secular organizations and volunteering our time at these organizations; and sharing our skills on a pro bono basis, whether it be teaching, building, legal counsel or medical help. We give of our resources and of ourselves.

Probably one of the most important things we do as parents and teachers is to model Jewish values for our children. We don't just talk the talk; we walk the walk! With tzedakah, it's helpful for young children to see us participating in these acts of lovingkindness. For most preschoolers, tzedakah is an abstraction at best. But even so, one of the things we can do is help them develop a "tzedakah habit." We have tzedakah boxes in our classrooms, and I have explained in our Parent Handbook that it's better for a child to bring a few coins most weeks than to bring a dollar occasionally. We tell the children that the money goes to people who don't have enough to buy food or live in warm houses. Still, it's a concept that is beyond the reach of most of them.

Another way in which we try to model the tzedakah habit and to make it concrete is to have the children and their families participate in hands-on donations that involve goods rather than money. In the fall, we participated in the Bergen County Chanukah Toy Drive. Children shopped with their parents and brought toys to school and put them in a gaily wrapped huge box; they could readily understand that the toys were for children who didn't have many things to play with. Just before Pesach, each child in the Pre-K and Threes brought a box of crackers to school, and we walked over to the JCCP parking lot and participated in the shul's pre-Pesach food drive. This was a concrete, hands-on way to reinforce the mitzvot of disposing of chametz and of feeding the hungry.

A family in our school is affected by Tay-Sachs disease; their daughter, whose brother is in our Threes, died in February a few months before his 7th birthday. In the fall, our school participated in the Coins for a Cure campaign run annually by this family for the Cure Tay-Sachs Foundation. We had collection canisters in each classroom, and it was explained to the older children that the "extra tzedakah box" was to raise money to help doctors help people who had a serious condition called Tay-Sachs disease. In May, we will hold an event we call "Jumping Sacks for Tay-Sachs" in which children will jump in "hopping sacks" and people can pledge an amount of money per jump or a flat amount. If you would like to sponsor a child or to make a general donation to the Cure Tay-Sachs Foundation, please contact me.

Teaching and modeling tzedakah for young children necessarily incorporates the concept na-aseh v'nishma — "first we act, then we understand" — that is found in the Torah. We hope that by providing a variety of opportunities to engage in acts of lovingkindness, we are helping children develop a lifelong tzedakah habit.

Board of Governors

Our Rabbis teach us "Ayn Kemach, Ayn Torah," which translated literally means "where there is no wheat, there can be no Torah." Idiomatically, what it teaches us is that for a Jewish community to meet its mission of educating its youth, providing religious services - in short, to function effectively -- it requires resources. Every Jewish community that has ever existed has had to find the means to ensure the health and viability of their institutions.

Modern synagogues are no different. Utilities, salaries, maintenance and upkeep, and other obligations must be met. Dues, fundraising, tuition and other sources of income help to defray these costs. But did you know that more than 7 percent of our budget is provided by the generosity of the Board of Governors, making it our largest single source of fundraising?

We invite you to learn more about the activities of the Board of Governors and consider sharing in its important work.

With gratitude,

Dr. George and Sheila Leipsner / Dr. Richard and Fran Winters

Every Day is Mitzvah Day

Our Spring Food Drive on April 13 was a success thanks to our generous members who donated turkeys, food and money. Thank you to Roz Gerard and her crew of volunteers who waited in the parking lot from 7:15 to 9:30 a.m. to receive donations. A special thank you to the Auerbach family, who again donated pounds and pounds of fresh produce, which is so appreciated by the Center for Food Action in Mahwah, where the donated food was taken for distribution.

This year, the children and parents of the JCCP Dora and Sidney Early Childhood Center also participated in our food drive. The children walked to the JCCP parking lot to make their donations in person and learned a lesson in the mitzvah of tzedakah and the laws of Passover eating.

The JCCP is well known for our Spring and Fall food drives, and also for our ongoing donations to the food banks in Bergen County. Please be sure to continue to bring an item or a bag of non-perishable food to the synagogue whenever you come during the week for minyan or a meeting. Most-needed items include hearty soups, canned meat and fish, Parmalat, fruit juice and peanut butter.

The Kosher Meals on Wheels program of Jewish Family Services is in constant need of volunteers. Please remember: You can drive once in a while or every week. For hot meal delivery, you must be able to pick up the meals at Jewish Family Services on Teaneck Road in Teaneck between 11 and 11:30 a.m. and make your deliveries immediately afterward. Frozen meals are delivered to clients who are not on a regular route. The pick-up and delivery of frozen meals can be arranged at a time convenient for you. Please call Melody Sandor at (201) 837-9090, Ext. 238, for more information.

If you are looking for other volunteer opportunities in the community, please e-mail Alice Blass at AliceB@ujannj.org or call her at (201) 820-3948.

For those who love to knit and crochet, we are continuing to hold our knitting bees. Our finished items are sent to the Tikvah Orphanage in Odessa, Russia. We will provide yarn and teach you to knit. We'll even pick up your work! We usually meet on the last Monday of the month, but we encourage you to knit on your own if you don't have time to come to our meetings. For more information, please contact Elaine Cohen at (201) 447-2485.

Our Chessed Committee has volunteers available if you or someone you know needs temporary help shopping or a ride to services or doctor appointments. Call Eileen Schneider at (201) 722-1606 or Nina Glaser at (201) 262-1775.

Planning a catered affair? If you have leftover food, remember that Table to Table will pick up unopened trays and containers of catered food from your home or our synagogue. Table to Table is a community-based food rescue program that collects prepared and perishable food that otherwise would be wasted and delivers it to organizations that serve the hungry in Bergen, Hudson, Essex and Passaic counties. Call (201) 444-5500 or go to www.Tabletotable.org for more information.

Adult Education 2010-2011 (5771)

"He who does not increase his knowledge, decreases it ..." (Pirke Avot, 1:13)

The Adult Education Committee is planning the JCCP Fall schedule of events and classes. Please save the date for our fall kickoff event: On Sunday, Nov. 6, we will be traveling by bus to the new National Museum of Jewish History in Philadelphia. The core exhibition of the museum offers visitors the opportunity to explore more than 350 years of Jewish life in America through evocative objects, telling moments and state-of-the-art interactive technologies. More details will be available soon.

The JCCP will participate in this year's UJANNJ Community Holocaust program on Sunday, May 1, at 11 a.m. at The Frisch School. It will feature a live satellite feed from Auschwitz as we "virtually" participate with the March of The Living's Yom HaShoah program emceed by Chaim Topol with Malcolm Hoenlein as the keynote speaker. A number of local residents, including teens and survivors, will be on the march. On the same day, our congregation will be having its own Holocaust memorial service at the JCCP on Sunday evening, May 1, at 7:15 p.m. It will feature a candle-lighting service and the participation of our JCCP Singers, and conclude with the evening minyan at 8 p.m..

On May 9 at 7:30 p.m., the Israeli Defense Forces Ensemble will perform at the JCCP to mark Yom Hazikaron (Israeli Memorial Day) and celebrate Yom Ha'atzmaut (Israel Independence Day). Enjoy a memorable performance of popular and traditional Israeli songs. This evening is sponsored by the George Reiss Memorial Fund and the Israel Awareness Committee.

Rabbi Weiner will be teaching a class on Wednesday afternoons at 3:00 and evenings at 8:15 beginning on May 4. The topic will be The Book Of Ruth. All are invited to participate in this in-depth study of this short but influential book of the Bible.

Stu Lehrer will continue his popular "What's My Line: Jewish Style" class at 8:15 on three Monday evenings: June 6, 13 and 27. In the Fall, Stu plans to teach a class on The Reasoning and Reckoning of Rashi.

Cantor Weiss the JCCP Singers will meet on Thursday, May 5, at 8:15 p.m. to learn songs in preparation for Yom Ha'atzmaut. No experience necessary; everyone welcome.

Save the evening of Monday, June 20, for another JCCP Book Club meeting; book and facilitator to be announced.

PLEASE JOIN US FOR THESE ONGOING CLASSES AND MEETINGS:

- Drosh and Nosh – Wednesdays 7:30-8 p.m. An opportunity to study the week's Torah portion with fellow congregants taught by a different person each week. These sessions have been very well attended. Come and see what it's all about.
- Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow – Everyone is welcome to join these lively and popular weekly discussions led by Al Nahum. Monday afternoons at 1:30.
- Hebrew Reading – It's never too late to learn to read Hebrew. Sunday mornings, 9:45-10:30. Contact Judy Fox at eccdirector@JCCParamus.org if you are interested.

What are you interested in? Please call Mark Topel, committee chair, at 201-967-9179, or e-mail to marktopel@verizon.net with your suggestions. We welcome and need your input.

A PURIM CARNIVAL THANK YOU!

The Purim Carnival is one of those wonderful activities that exemplifies what our synagogue is – an active and involved community. Each year a large group of people from every arm of the synagogue comes together and volunteers their time and service, and this year's carnival was no exception. To walk into this building was to know that something special was happening.

A very sincere thanks to all of those who helped set up and run the games, pass out prizes, serve food, sell tickets, etc. Without this help and cooperation, the carnival simply would not be the success that it is.

Special thanks and sincere appreciation must go to Esther Marks, Lili Baumzweig, Alyce Esrig, Amy Tobenkin and Janie Horowitz, who oversee every detail of this event. Their work over the years has helped create one of the most organized and well-run carnivals around.

Thanks to Laurie Rosman, whose unending energy and commitment keeps the prize room so current and appealing. Special appreciation to Carol Tendler, who donated some of the outstanding prizes that enhanced the choices of prizes even more. To Debbie Barbash and Lisa Mutnick, thanks for taking on the responsibility in the prize room.

Andy Kestenbaum, Dave Shulman, Jerry Menter and Joe Esrig and the Men's Club saw to it that we did not go hungry! They even add to the menu every year.

Through their tireless efforts, Roz Mehr and Jill Wiser arranged for plenty of volunteers to run the games. They also arranged to have APT donate the pizzas to the Hebrew School children for lunch. Thanks so much.

How many years has Gary Glaser arranged for us to have the MOONWALK? The children love it so, and it would not be a complete carnival without the Moonwalk or Gary and Rob Chananie overseeing the children. The always popular goldfish booth was run so ably for the entire carnival by Neil Mutnick; thank you Neil!

Then we had Sue Greenberg, Sue Kaminer, Ruth Smith, Ronnie Schmidt and Cindy Kestenbaum selling tickets and Shel Schmidt keeping track of all the money.

We had the Youth groups helping with Sandy Candy, Sisterhood helping with makeup and tattoos, and Iris Dadon doing her creative work with jewelry. Lori Cohen sees each year that our little ones have fun at the Kiddie Land section of the carnival.

Hopefully you have noticed a new look to all our games. They have been remade and now work wonderfully well. We should all thank Fred Harris for the hours, talent and care he put into this project. Thanks also to Merle Harris for her artistic ability in making the games look so terrific.

A huge thank you to our president, Russell Rothman, for the Cotton Candy machine, which was a great favorite this year.

Nikki Marks has earned our heartfelt thanks for being such a helpful assistant. Nikki, maybe one day you will take over the carnival.

Lastly, a most sincere thanks to Marcia Kagedan for all her help in assuring the success of the carnival. It is a big undertaking! Thanks to Rabbi Weiner and Joe Herrmann for all your support. To Gallo and the entire custodial staff, muchas gracias for all your help. It was a very busy weekend and you all did a terrific job.

See you at the carnival next year on Sunday, March 4, 2012. I know we will have some new volunteers next year because they have already volunteered their services. I look forward to working with you all.

APT News

APT was a little less busy last month following our busy and fun March. April was our month to learn about Passover. The Family Passover Workshop not only enabled the children to better understand the Passover holiday, but also gave them a special project to make and use for the holiday. The APT provided for the Passover Project.

May's Lag b'Omer event is fun for the family. The program will be at Van Saun Park on Sunday, May 22. There will be plenty of food and games for children and adults. Be sure to bring the family!

On behalf of APT, we would like to wish a very special Mazel Tov to all who have had a bat/bar mitzvah this school year and to those whose simchas are coming up in May.

We want to let you know how very much we appreciate all the comfort and support you offered us after the death of our beloved wife and mother, Alma.

Our sincere thanks to Rabbi Weiner and the entire congregation. Your thoughts and prayers gave us strength during a difficult time and reminded us how lucky we are to be a part of such a wonderful community.
