

The JCCP/CBT Book Club: Summer 2021

Dear Book Club Friends,

A diversified and exciting group of books has been selected for this year's enjoyment and discussion. We have already read The Resistant Women, Behold the Dreamers, American Dirt, An Unorthodox Match, The Girl with the Louding Voice and Little Fires Everywhere.

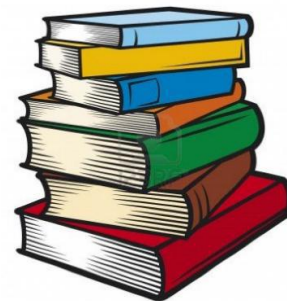

Upcoming Book Titles and Extra Reading

The selections below have already been assigned dates, and as we move through the year, other book discussions will be scheduled. A few titles are for extra reading and may be discussed.

- Wednesday, May 12 - Little Fires Everywhere by Celeste Ng
- Tuesday, June 15, - The Weight of Ink by Rachel Kadish
- Tuesday, July 13 - The Girl Who Wrote in Silk by Kelli Estes
- Tuesday, August 17 - The Yellow Bird Sings by Jennifer Rosner

Some Suggestions for Extra Credit!

- The Warmth of Other Suns by Isabel Wilkerson
- Leave the World Behind by Rumaan Alam
- Wunderland by Jennifer Epstein
- Those Who Are Saved by Alexis Landau
- In the Fall we are so pleased to announce that Jon Sterling will facilitate The Beekeeper of Aleppo by Christy Lefteri. Date TBD.
- And don't forget The Orchardist by Amanda Coplin – to be read when we return to live discussion facilitated by Stephen Waterstone!

I would love to hear from you, talk to you, or receive any suggestions for books you may have enjoyed. Have a great time reading! This is certainly the time for it, and please stay healthy!

Questions? Please contact Mimi Levin

201-265-0454 ~ grandmamimil@verizon.net